Keynote Address

Proof, Pizza and Playing the Guitar

Why is proof so important? Does pizza have a place in serious mathematics? And what has all this got to do with playing the guitar? To find out, we take an off-beat look at some of the most important ideas in mathematics, with live demonstrations and computer experiments.

Keynote Address

Proof, Pizza and Playing the Guitar

Speaker Dr David Acheson
Fellow of Jesus College Oxford

This event for KS3 and KS4 mathematics teachers has been organised by the Mathematical Association and the Association of Teachers of Mathematics. It is an excellent opportunity for teachers to

- find new ideas and resources to help them to develop and improve their teaching.
- Increase their awareness of issues relating to mathematics examinations.
- share ideas and resources with colleagues

A choice of sessions, many of which will be taken by experienced mathematics teachers, will be available. A DVD of resources will be provided for each participant..
